My own Dearly One -

Must just send a last line before you come -

Here is a list of the things you have been - the pyjama trousers has a huge hole so even that is not wearable till I mend it - The shirts and pants I should think are sufficient for the holiday

To confirm our telephone talk - Penma badly wants to be fitted up with an electric light she could switch on from her bed. There is an electric point in the wainscot near her bed.

I shall give her the Bible you got for her "from you" - as I have one or two other little presents for her myself -

Then they each want a white mouse There was a real Indian head belt 10/6 at the White Elephant shop. I thought it too expensive but Lillian wanted it⁽²⁾ badly - so I asked them to reserve it pending your arrival -

The other night she dreamed that a lot of Red Indians came to her and she taught them to dance and then they gave her a bead belt - I felt her desire for that belt perhaps justified the expense if it had gone so deep - So I went to the White elephant and found two ladies had already asked for it if I did not want it - So I got it - I've not given it to her yet -

Thank you for your letter

Glad Sherman returned the maver -

I can't get a p.p.c of the Reservoir anywhere round Antcomb. Of course I ought to have tried at Holsworthy the day we were there, but it rained & rained that day so we sat in the car most of the time only making little dashes out 3. to see something or other - Your Ration Book has come -

Later . Must close this tonight & catch first post tomorrow - It is a hasty letter - but since you will be with us so soon after it reaches you all news and love shall be given you more closely & intimately Oh it is good to know you'll soon be here -

All my love by our precious one - Ada -

Have just been fixing your room -
